'Folk' Greenwich Village Coffee Shop in the 1960's Terrace/Bar & Drawing Room	Stitch Ministry	Henry Glucina	7.30 – 8.30 pm Luke Hurley Luke Hurley is an independent New Zealand guitarist and singer-songwriter, who works mostly outside the confines of the music industry. 9.30 – 10.30pm Mel Parsons Originally hailing from the West Coast of New Zealand's South Island, Mel Parsons is a singer-songwriter whose songs speak for themselves. Always a fan of a catchy tune, and a sucker for sweet vocal harmony, Mel's style has unsurprisingly ended up sitting somewhere in the country infused pop-folk sort of a vein. And despite four years of music study her songwriting remains purely intuitive:
Bordello Chic Suite 5	The Carpenters Daughter	Trove Design	L.A. Mitchell Songstress L.A. Mitchell has been working tirelessly over the last couple of years. She opened for Stevie Wonder at both his New Zealand shows, supported Dave Dobbyn on his European tour and performs as keyboardist and vocalist in his touring band. In 2009 she was named first songwriter in residence for Auckland University. L.A. Mitchell's meld of soul/jazz has been met with critical acclaim since the release of her first, self-produced album 'Debut'. It was followed by a live recording with her six-piece band, Nativa, at Wellington's The Matterhorn, a release that showcases the power of her voice and polish of her live act.
